You rarely see a drop tine buck like this one in WV. Jeremy Weaver, from Lumberport, used a bow for this unusual deer. It had 14 points - some palmated- and scored 159 7/8.

Needless to say, the overall buck harvest was way off. Hopefully the great mast year will produce large racks next season.

Buck Harvest Numbers Down

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W.Va. – Preliminary data collected from game checking stations across the state indicate deer hunters in West Virginia harvested 43,226 bucks during the two-week buck firearms season, which ran from Nov. 22 through Dec. 4, according to Frank Jeziro, Director of the West Virginia Division of Natural Resources (DNR). The 2010 buck harvest was 31 percent less than the 2009 harvest of 62,986. The top ten counties for buck harvest were as follows: Preston (2,030), Randolph (1,817), Hardy (1,350), Greenbrier (1,348), Mason (1,264), Hampshire (1,261), Ritchie (1,236), Jackson (1,216), Lewis (1,141) and Wood (1,113).

This year's buck harvest is significantly lower than last year, with declines occurring across all DNR Districts. The largest percent decreases occurred in the western and central counties of the state. The harvest was 30th among all recorded antlered buck firearm seasons. Overall, 14 counties were above or within one buck harvested per square of the harvest objective and 37 counties were one or more bucks per square mile below the harvest objective.

in antler development, decrease in reproduction and sometimes death due to starvation during winter months. The cumulative effects of too many deer over time causes a decline in herd condition, which actually reduces the deer herd's resiliency to years of poor mast conditions and harsh winter weather. year's unusually severe winter had a significant impact on the deer population and the overall 2010 buck firearms season harvest. Fortunately, 2010 has been a banner year for mast and overall, deer are in good physical condition entering the winter months.

Wildlife Biologists will analyze data from the combined 2010 deer seasons (i.e., buck, antlerless, archery and muzzleloader) before making appropriate recommendations for next year's deer seasons. These recommendations will be available for public review at 12 regulations meetings scheduled for March 14 and 15, 2011 (see current 2010 - 2011 Hunting and Trapping Regulations Summary page 5 or visit the DNR website at www.wvdnr.gov for scheduled times and places).

Director Jezioro reminds hunters that the traditional six-day antlerless deer season in selected counties on both public and private land ends Saturday, December 11. Muzzleloader deer season begins Dec. 13 and runs through Dec. 18. The Youth and Class Q/QQ antlerless deer season will be open on

Archery In Schools State Tournament

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W.Va.

– As a result of the growing success of the Archery in the Schools Program (AIS), the Division of Natural Resources (DNR) will be hosting its Sixth Annual West Virginia State Tournament at the Veterans Memorial Field House located in Huntington. The DNR anticipates more than 600 students from across the state will be participating making this the largest indoor youth archery tournament ever held in the state of West Virginia.

The AIS Program is the DNR's largest and fastest growing educational program, reaching more than 50,000 students through the participation of nearly 250 schools. Since the DNR implemented the program in 2004, over 1,500 students have participated in five state tournaments with several hundred qualifying and competing at National Tournaments located in Louisville, KY, according to Scott Warner, DNR Wildlife Resources Section, AIS Program Coordinator.

“With the interest in our state tournament, we’re encouraging all participating schools to start working with their students now to get their registration material in before the February 25 deadline,” said Warner. “We are encouraging all parents, Principals and teachers to actively support their AIS Program and consider coming to this year’s tournament. Even if a school can not send a full team of 12 students, schools can still be represented by sending students to participate in the Individual Division.”

Schools that have trained AIS instructors but have not yet purchased archery equipment still have the opportunity to participate in the tournament. “Certified instructors may volunteer to help with scoring and arrow-pulling at the tournament,” said Warner. “In fact, it provides instructors first-hand knowledge of what goes on at a tournament, which would be of great benefit to their school. However, volunteers will need to contact us well in advance.”

For more information on the AIS State Tournament and how to get your school involved, visit the DNR’s website at www.wvdnr.gov/archery or contact Scott Warner at 304-558-2771.

Lake Russell Fishing Event

The 14th annual Wright's Riverside Marine bass tournament was attended by 50 local fishermen. The 25 teams stayed in cabins in Elberton, Georgia.

This popular event consists of three practice days and four day event. A small pot tournament is held on each practice days. The main tournament adds the combined weight for the four days with a cash award.

The four day tournament was won by Woodby and O'Hara. There is a 5 fish per day limit and their combined weight was 41.89 pounds. For the four days, over 615 pounds of bass were landed by the 25 teams.

Second place was the Southall's with 36.76 pounds and third place was Frazier and Murphy with 33.95 pounds. Brace and Masters were fourth and fifth place belonged to Holdren and Schneider - the hosts of the event.

BIG BUCK CONTEST

North Bend State Park Trips

CAIRO, W.Va. – North Bend State Park has 10 discounted winter package rates and several low-cost special event weekend packages that may seem to be too good to be true, according to North Bend Sales Coordinator Kristi Steed.

“There’s no catch to our winter offers,” said Steed. “We try to be very specific in what we offer as rates or events and what is included. Then we smile when we have to argue with customers who just can’t believe what they get for their travel dollar or Christmas money or gift card in December through April.”

Located in Ritchie County between Cairo and Harrisville, North Bend State Park is a family oriented four-season park featuring a lodge, vacation cabins, campgrounds, full-service restaurant, 305-acre Lake for kayaking and fishing, and North Bend Rail Trail.

“If you ask 10 people what is one of your favorite state parks, North Bend will ring out more than once,” says Sissie Summers, programming administrator for the state park system. “It has a down-home feeling. As anyone who checks on special packages and rates will quickly continue to the next page see, North Bend takes every opportunity to introduce people to the park, its facilities and the area.”

Some of North Bend State Park’s winter offers include:

The Great Getaway

Through April 30, 2011, North Bend State Park offers the Great Getaway for two. It is a one night stay that includes dinner in the park restaurant for two and morning continental breakfast. Taxes and gratuities are included for a total cost of $99. The Great $99 Getaway is available any day during the week or weekends except Dec. 24, 25, 31 and Feb. 14. The park offers other options for Christmas, New Year’s Eve and Valentines Day.

Friends Night Out”

Girlfriend weekends or friend retreats are popular and North Bend recognizes this trend. “We try to create rates that are under $100 and includes a meal, lodging and a special interest,” says Steed. “Shopping is a special interest.”

Friends Night Out includes a night at North Bend lodge, dinner and continental breakfast for two, and shopping coupons for Coldwater Creek Outlet, Fenton, and local Ritchie county merchants. Additional friends in the double occupancy rooms are $30 each. Customers electing to stay Friday or Saturday nights on this rate offer are upgraded to breakfast off the menu. The rate includes taxes and gratuities and excludes Dec. 24, 25, 31 and February 14.

Other Affordable Ideas

North Bend offers anniversary packages, golf packages partnering with the local golf course in Harrisville, and “History Traveler” packages that feature visits to Blennerhassett Island and Prickett’s Fort state parks while staying at North

100 Fun USA Facts & Trivia

100. Some of Ghandi's ashes are at the Lake Shrine in Pacific Palisades near Los Angeles. These were the only ashes allowed outside of India when he died.

99. In 1919, Boston had a molasses disaster. 2 million gallons of crude molasses burst from a tank and pushed its way through the neighborhood and city. It killed at least 21 people and took weeks to clean up.

98. The "largest" city in the United States is Juneau, Alaska. It covers about 3,000 square miles. That's larger than the state of Delaware. In case you are wondering, Jacksonville, Florida is the largest in the lower 48 at just over 800 square miles.

97. The California grizzly bear is the state's official animal. However, in 1953 when it was named, it had already become extinct. The last known California grizzly to have been seen was killed in 1922.

96. Venus Fly Traps only live in the wild in the Carolinas and nowhere else in the world.

95. Not only was Ronald Reagan the oldest person ever elected president at age of 69, he has lived longer than any former president ever has, and has died at the age of 93. We will love you dearly, Mr. President!

94. Francis Scott Key, who penned the Star Spangled Banner, was a practicing lawyer. His sister, Anne Key, married Roger Brooke Taney, who

Gen. Lee resigned his commission to avoid fighting against his home state. The Lees vacated the property in 1861. Union troops occupied it and 200 acres were set aside to bury fallen Union soldiers. Today over 250,000 war dead are buried there. Now of course, it is known as Arlington National Cemetery.

Martin Van Buren was the first president born in America after it declared its independence from England. So, he was actually the first president born in the United States, the country.

75.

Edgar Allan Poe was once an army cadet at West Point.

74.

The first American poet to achieve any notoriety was an African female slave named Phillis Wheatly. One of her poems was first published when she was 13. She wrote a poem about George Washington and later met him. She died tragically at the age of 30 in 1784.

73.

Ben Franklin composed his own epitaph when he was 22 years old.

72.b

Charles Lindbergh was not the first person to fly across the Atlantic. He was the first to make it alone. 2 Britains did it in 1919, and 2 weeks later U.S. Navy pilots did the same thing! What is amazing is that nobody remembers them!

72.a

Amelia Earhart was the first female to fly across the Atlantic, once as a passenger,

and once as a solo pilot. She was the first to fly solo from California to Hawaii, and the first to fly solo from Mexico City to New Jersey.

Catalina Island off the coast of California. They were used in a movie, "The Vanishing American." The buffalo were left behind, the herd grew larger, and today about 250 still roam free on the island. During later years, the population has been "controlled".

In 1940, Maurice and Richard McDonald opened a barbecue car-hop type restaurant located in San Bernardino, Ca. Shortly after W.W.II, they paired the menu down to offer burgers, fries, and shakes. Ray Croc, a restaurant appliance salesman, was baffled as to why they needed so many milk shake makers. He found out soon enough. Franchise rights were sold in 1955, and Ray Croc opened one up in Des Plaines, Ill. This was his first, but actually the 9th McDonalds. And the rest, as they say, is history. A museum has recently opened up at the original location-14th and E streets in San Bernardino.

Los Angeles was not as "tall" as other large cities, and sprawls for miles. One reason is that before 1957, there was a law against any building having more than 13 stories. They were afraid of earthquakes. City Hall, built in 1927, was the lone exception. This is the building that dominates the skyline in the old Dragnet and Superman TV series. Today, it seems quite hidden.
